FOREWORD

Against the colorful background of our school circus, we have portrayed our everyday life from the opening of the circus grounds in September to our final great show, graduation. Each club, sport, and activity has been a main event in our amateur production "Under the Big Top."

Characterized by fun, activity, friendship, and work, repeated rehearsals have given us training that will stand us steadfast and guide us as we face the joys, sorrows, and problems of the professional world into which we are about to step.

NAZARETH AREA JOINT SCHOOL COMMITTEE

George A. Smith, President of Joint School Committee, Nazareth; F. A. Marcks, Superintendent; Stanley W. Clewell, Nazareth; C. J. Knauss, Secretary to School Committee, Nazareth; Gustave Fox, Lower Nazareth; Mark H. Werner, Upper Nazareth; Elwood J. Unangst, Nazareth.

The Nazareth Area Joint School Board came into existence on the first Monday in July 1950 after an agreement had been approved and signed by the representatives from Bushkill Township, Lower Nazareth Township, Stockertown Borough, Tatamy Borough, and Upper Nazareth Township on June 30, 1950.

The Joint Board consists of 32 members, 7 from Nazareth and 5 from each of the other districts. The board meets regularly once a year on the last Wednesday in April. Its duty is the approval of budgets, the selection of new sites, and the erection of buildings.

In all other affairs a Joint Committee holds legislative power. This Committee of 12 men, meeting regularly on the second Monday of every month, includes 7 representatives from Nazareth and 1 representative from each of the other areas. According to the terms of the agreement, the secretary and the treasurer of the Nazareth Borough Board act as secretary and treasurer to the Joint Board and Committee for the first year. In succeeding years the board may elect all their own officers, with the one limit that the treasurer must be the treasurer of one of the district boards.

ENTERING THE BIG TOP

Bustle, excitement, roaring lions, growling bears, screeching monkeys, all against a musical background, announce the arrival of the circus. The two ringmasters have their hands full regulating daily rehearsals and performances and keeping routines smooth. Their many assistants, the trainers, carry through the daily schedules, often working overtime on new tricks for the animals.

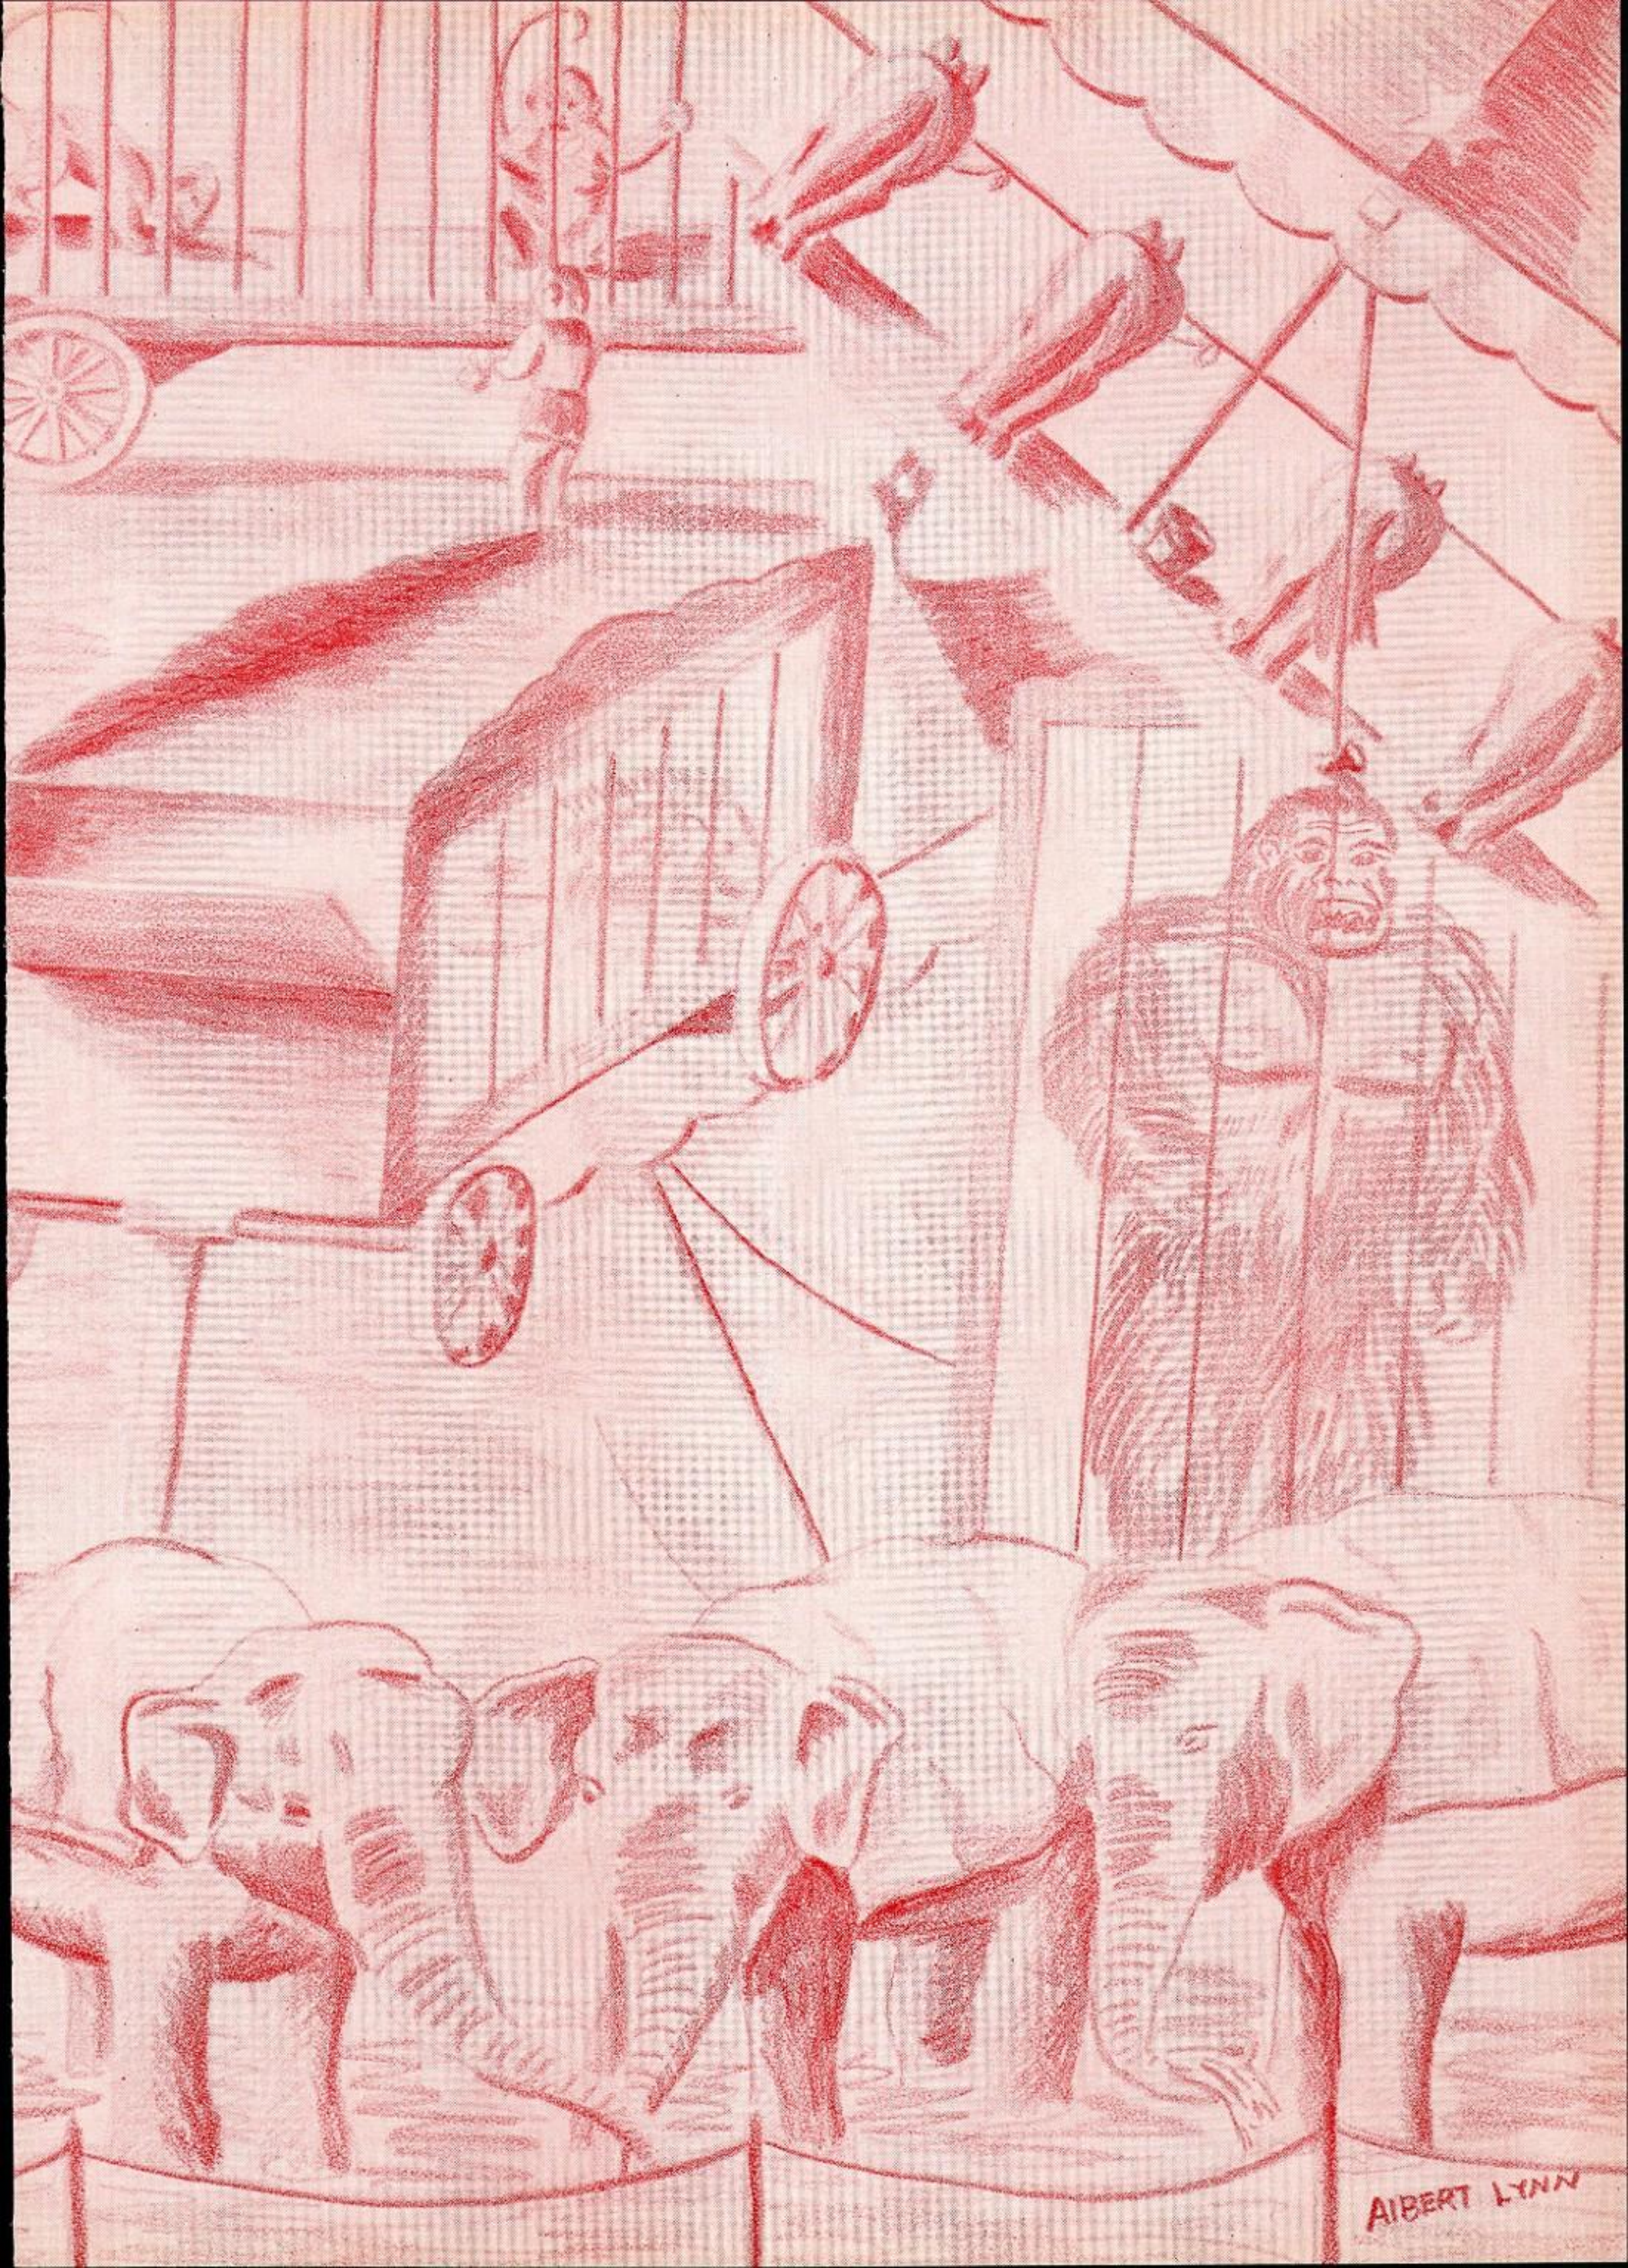

Without the animals themselves, there could be no circus. Out of the three classes, the first group includes those who are getting ready to give their final performance. The Senior Lions are in the final stage of training before putting on their last show. During this period, rough spots are smoothed out, and the amateurs are ready to ascend to a still greater Big Top in the experiences ahead.

Those in the second stage are the Junior Bears, who are working hard to get their junior tricks down pat before advancing to the next class. They are privileged in that their circus life is not yet at an end. Their trainers are preparing them to be performers in their numerous fields so that the smoothing down process will be less difficult when they move on to the stage of the world.

The beginners, Sophomore Monkeys, are having a good taste of circus life with all its thrills and spills. The nine previous years have given them a good idea of how much hard work and fun goes into practicing and training. The two years ahead of them will teach them needed skills.

Growls and protests escape now and then from animals and trainers alike, but are soon forgotten in the every day laughs that accompany their striving to get ahead. When all is over, they agree that every tiny bit of work was necessary in preparation for the future, "The Greatest Show on Earth."

SENIOR CIRCUS MEMORIES

On September 7, 1948, over 170 of us squirming monkeys entered the Big Tent. Our first attempts at circus routine were undeniably confused as we scrambled from room to room in search of the right cages. With the coming of October all of us stiff, self-conscious monkeys attended our first show, the Sophomore Dance.

Early in December our entire troupe was saddened by the untimely death of our beloved ring master, Mr. Feller. Within a short time Mr. Graver joined us, not to replace Mr. Feller, but to win his own spot in our circus tent.

The "little tent" echoed with merriment as we monkeys joined our superior animal friends at our Christmas Dance, Valentine Dance, and Square Dance—all Student Council attractions.

Then came June and soon we left the Big Tent for the last time as lowly Sophomore Monkeys.

When we returned to the Big Tent on September 6, 1949, we had a lot more fur on our heads, for all of a sudden we had grown into sure-footed bears. All we bears were anxious to be stamped when early in October our brands (class rings) came.

During the year our Student Council invited all of us animals to attend their Christmas Dance, Sweetheart Dance, St. Patty's Dance, and Square Dance.

At last the big night arrived when we bears attended our main event, the Junior Prom, which we called "Neptune's Ball." Forever and ever May 12 will bring memories of green crepe paper, balloons, and sea-fish plus soft lights and sweet music.

The weeks whizzed by and we soon jostled out of the tent, leaving our labels of Junior Bears behind us.

Reentering the Big Tent on September 5, 1950, we enjoyed the thrill of being Senior Lions. Kings of the Den—with the title came a lot of work but also a lot of fun.

Despite the rehearsals, which were truly a three-ring show, on November 9 and 10, we lions successfully presented our first feature, our play, "One Foot in Heaven."

On November 23, our football team completed an undefeated season as they beat Wilson, 20-7. That evening at the troupe Turkey Day Dance, we lions celebrated our victories, but inwardly mourned because it was our last inside view of the football season, which we cherish almost religiously.

Thus far we have gathered in the "little tent" for three dance features: the Get Acquainted Dance, Christmas Dance, and Snowball Dance.

Now as this Comet goes to press, we lions are looking forward to the Junior Prom, at which we will be Guests of Honor. Eagerly, we are planning our class Festival and our trip to New York City late in the spring.

Soon after that we will march into our seats at commencement. Two hours later we will march out leaving our lion skins behind and donning the suits of young adults. Then, suddenly reluctant, we will leave the Big Tent for the last time, carrying all our memories with us.

Years later as we live on the world's stage, we will recall all these memories and realize that our three years under the Big Top were really the "Circus" years of our lives.

DONALD TENGES

February 11, 1934 - November 11, 1950

The entire student body mourned the passing of our classmate, Donald Tenges, one of our varsity football men. "Bozy" was killed in an automobile accident on the evening of November 11, 1950, after playing his first varsity football game at East Stroudsburg that afternoon.

Under the supervision of Mr. Norman Hughes, adviser, the Junior Cabinet oversees the general activities of the class. Its twenty members were responsible for the sale of booster cards for the Wilson game. The proceeds were added to the treasury to carry activities for the remainder of the year.

We Junior Bears had our first party, the Sophomore Dance, on October 27, 1949. Now we are eagerly anticipating our second feature, the Prom in May, which will be a much more elaborate affair.

Last October we received our class rings. In November we sadly bowed our heads in reverence at the death of one of our classmates, Donald Tenges.

During the week preceeding the Big Game, we bears sold Beat Wilson Boosters.

Before too long we will be having our pictures taken, an event which brings us very close to that special title which will be ours in September.

Because there are over 200 of us, we, the Sophomore Monkeys, have the distinction of being the largest group ever to come under the Big Top at N. H. S.

Our Halloween Dance on October 26 has been our only feature event, but we have joined the rest of the troupe at various side shows and at the Student Council dance attractions.

THE THREE RINGS

Now we come to the most thrilling part of our circus, the Three Rings, comprising the public performances, sports events, and clubs.

In the first ring, Neptune's Ball, our prom, was widely acclaimed by the circus troupe itself, while the senior play, the Music Festival, and the Band Concert were high lights enjoyed by the spectators. At the annual Arts Exhibit our circus artists displayed their talents.

This year, for the first time in fifteen years, our football team came through with an undefeated season. During the rest of the year our other athletics shared the limelight.

The extracurricular activities of the third ring range in interest from chess to swimming. Aided by music, soft lights, gay decorations, and refreshments, the Student Council sponsored several Friday and Saturday night dances which the Blue and White advertised and the Comet recollects in this scrapbook of memories.

The Three Rings offered opportunities for developing skills, perfecting abilities, and learning the value of cooperation. The sportsmanship we've learned through these daily performances has helped to mold and enrich our personalities so that we will be worthy participants in future performances.

This Big Top program carries a full-scale account of the circus activities under the Big Tent for 1950-1951.

As the entire staff chose the circus theme early in the year, every division of the Comet depicts a phase of circus life from the main three-ring acts to the side shows.

As soon as the circus grounds opened in September, production began. While the Layout Staff planned the pictures to be taken, the editorial staff wrote articles which kept the typists constantly at work. The financing of our book was given to the Business Staff who solicited advertisements and made sure, by encouraging the sale of Comets and patrons, that our book would be a financial success. The artists have illustrated our main acts. Every senior shared in making these ever-changing circus scenes a remembrance to cherish.

GET YOUR SOUVENIR!

The 1950 Comet has been the only one of our yearbooks to win a first rating in schools of its class (301 to 600 students) by the Columbia Press Association last October. Two of this year's editors—Jean Scutt and Johanna Toth—accompanied Miss Sloat to the Columbia Press Conference in New York City on October 13 and 14. The delegates brought back many helpful ideas and suggestions that should make the story of our Big Top more complete for our audience.

On November 10 and 11, two members from the business staff—Ann Deutsch and Jean Weiss—and two from the editorial staff—Jane Walters and Marjorie Phillips—attended the Pennsylvania Scholastic Press Association Conference in Allentown. This is another first, since Nazareth High has never before been represented at the annual Pennsylvania State Press Convention.

Faculty advisers include Miss Elizabeth Sloat, editorial; Mrs. Lois Metzger, business; Miss Jean Clute, art.

Standing—Mrs. Belva Kolessar.

As the class of '51 returned to the Big Top in September, the Staff of the Blue and White Standard began to prepare the publicity that would help lead the show to success.

Echoes of "See Mr. Graver", "Run this up to the typists", "Count that article again", and "Finish up those headlines" rang in the air as the co-editors and the associate editors made the assignments, planned the pages, and headlined the articles, while the editorial staff completed writing the articles and assisted the editors in counting and proof reading the material. Soon another monthly issue of the Blue and White, "hot off the press," relating events of the past, commending star performers, and announcing the next feature attractions to be held under the Big Top, was in the hands of the students of Nazareth High School.

BUSINESS

Joan Bond, Helen Morykin, Asher Davidson, Bernice Steward, Arline Stimmel, Jacquelyn Ritter, and Mrs. Lois Metzger.

On November 10, Maybelle Hahn, Mary Lee Lauffer, Marilyn Hooper, and Marion Rampulla, accompanied by Mr. J. Frederic Knecht, staff adviser, attended the annual convention of the Pennsylvania Scholastic Press Association at Central Catholic High School, Allentown.

HANDLES CIRCUS PUBLICITY

The group toured the office of the Allentown Call Chronicle, participated in discussions of the problems of school publications presided over by men and women active in the field of journalism, and enjoyed an address by Ed Sullivan, noted columnist and M. C. of the television program "Toast of the Town," at a banquet held at the Lehigh Valley Dairy Auditorium, Allentown.

It was the first time delegates from the Blue and White ever attended the Pennsylvania Scholastic Press Association conference. The Blue and White is a member of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association as well as the Pennsylvania Scholastic Press Association.

The staff is under the advisership of Mr. J. Fredric Knecht and Mr. Quentin Zell, who supervise the general activities of the newspaper.

GREASE PAINT

Occupying one ring of our Circus Big Top, the animals (seniors) presented the annual senior play, One Foot In Heaven, on November 9 and 10 in the high school auditorium.

The play tells the trials of a new, broadminded, unprejudiced minister and his family who moved to an old dilapidated parsonage in Laketown, Iowa.

Reverend and Mrs. Spence, with their children, Hartzell and Eileen, established themselves in the community with the help of Dr. Romer, their friend through thick and thin. Louise, Maria, Molly, and Ronny finally convinced Reverend Spence that dancing and movies were all right. Georgie, the brat of the play, added a touch of humor.

The animal trainer for this spectacular exhibition was Mr. Franklyn E. Kostenbader with his assistants, Barbara Cump and Mary Lee Lauffer, the prompters.

In charge of the ground crew for properties, Mr. Ronald Roth kept Lorna Thompson, Richard Dupsick, and Duane Fehr working up to the last minute on odds and ends for the production.

Miss Jean Clute directed another ground crew in staging and kept the stagecraft club at work even during rehearsals.

The Business staff, directed by Hilda Wukovitz, worked to make the play a financial success. Mrs. Ralph Metz and Mrs. Thomas Kolessar, with their staff, were dress-makers to the clowns.

Left—

2. The dilapidated appearance of the house brings sad looks to their expectant faces.
3. Mrs. Sandow shows a picture of her dear dead husband, the handsomest man in all of Iowa.

Right—

4. Mrs. Spence accepts gifts from the welcoming parishioners.
5. Mollie's only gripe is that she won't be able to cook like Mrs. Spence.
6. Bishop Sherwood listens to Major Cooper's charges against Reverend Spence.

Standing—Henry Keppel, Jane Walters.

BEHIND EACH PERFORMANCE

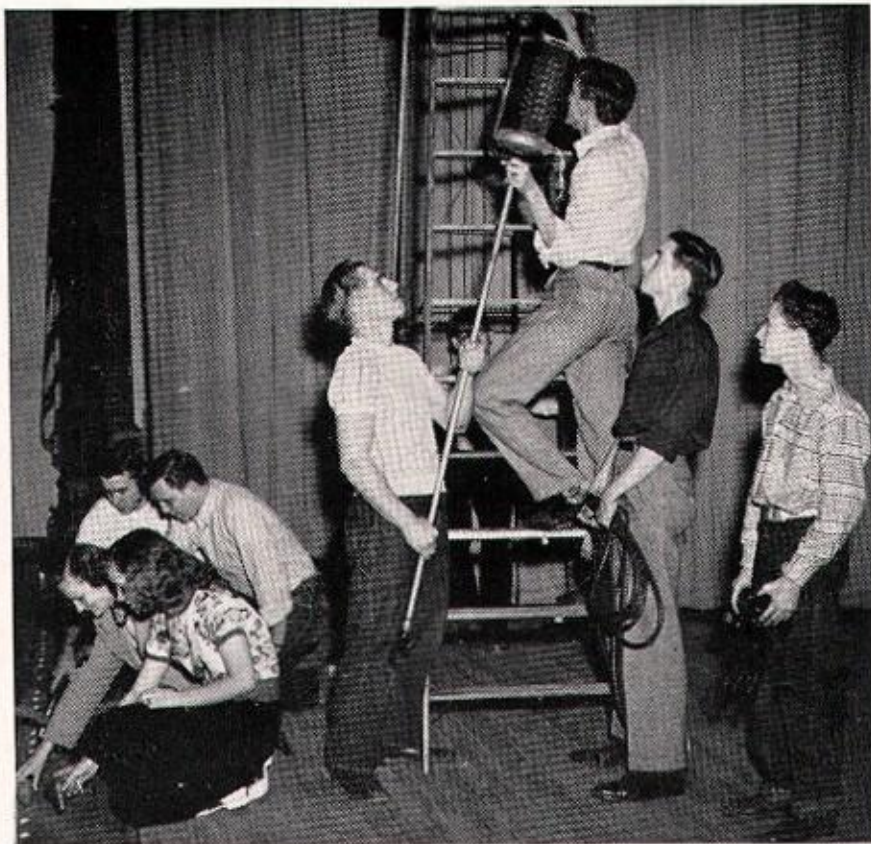

STAGECRAFT CLUB

Building and painting stage settings and taking care of the lighting for various stage productions keeps the members of the Stagecraft Club at work all year. Behind the scenes at the Band Concert, Senior Play, Music Festival, Fashion Show, and Little Theater Productions members of this active organization work diligently to make each production a success.

Not only for school organizations but also for outside organizations that use the auditorium, the club is on hand to set the stage.

Under the direction of Miss Jean Clute, this useful club is divided into three committees: the lighting committee which takes care of the spot and foot lights; the stage property committee which plans furniture and interior decorations; and the construction committee which builds and paints the sets.

1. The construction group assembles the interior setting, putting in windows and French doors.
2. The lighting committee makes sure overhead lights, spotlights, and footlights are in working condition.
3. The property committee takes care of all incidentals including arranging the furniture.

Members of the club attended several enjoyable productions at Lafayette College in Easton and the Drawing Room Theatre in Bethlehem.

LAST BIG

ARRIVING AT THE BIG TOP

On the evening of May 12, 1950, the Big Top was gaily adorned with brightly colored fish and shiny star dust—all under a canopy of yellow and green streamers—for this spectacular fete of the year, Neptune's Ball, the annual Junior-Senior Prom.

As gracefully as trapeze artists, long-gowned gals and sleek-coated chaps, danced to the strains of the soft music of the Nomad's Orchestra on this gala night. Between acts, sophomore pages acted as vendors, serving refreshments to the revelers.

A feature attraction of the performance was the crowning of nine-year-old Kay Brong as queen of the ball.

The Annual Art Exhibit, held on May 19, 1950, is one of the prominent events of the school year and is always well attended by large and appreciative groups of parents and friends who have a keen interest in the art activity of the school.

As part of the exhibit students demonstrate their work by painting portraits in oils or pastels, drawing from still life, preparing illustrations, working in clay, scratch sgraffito designs on Pennsylvania Dutch plates, and tool metal for decorative plaques.

The art work done by senior high school students includes all phases of the fine arts and many crafts. Other phases of the art course consist of sketching from student models and the painting of portraits of student members of the art classes. In landscape painting and story illustration, the student creates his own interpretation of the composition, stressing the creative imagination. In design the work varies from the modern composition in angle to the flowered print for dress material to that suitable for cretonne. Also fashion design for the high school student is studied.

ON DISPLAY

Visitors admire senior play posters.

In the crafts, students are primarily interested in ceramics, pottery, and ceramic sculpture along with metal sculpture. Such articles as lamp bases, sculptured animals, figurines, and a variety of small dishes are made. Since Nazareth has a Pennsylvania Dutch background, the early Pennsylvania Dutch red ware is studied and reproduced. This includes pieces decorated in slip painting and sgraffito.

As a service to the senior class, posters are made and placed in the various stores in Nazareth and the surrounding area to advertise the senior play. Each year art students make and enter posters in the Poppy contest sponsored by the American Legion and the Health Poster contest sponsored by the Northampton County Medical Society.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

The Industrial Arts covers a course in the operation of common woodworking machines. The students are taught to work with and use the machine shop tools. While the students are learning, they make book cases, coffee tables, chests of drawers, ping-pong tables or any piece of furniture they desire.

Young visitors examine a nest of coffee tables.

"Styles Around The Clock", taking Miss High School Girl, 1950, through a typical day, was the fashion show presented in the Nazareth High School auditorium as part of the Arts Exhibit at eight o'clock on May 19.

Pajamas, housecoats, sportswear, school dresses, blouses and skirts, suits for traveling or shopping, and dresses for afternoon and evening wear were modeled by the students of the beginning and advanced clothing classes of senior high.

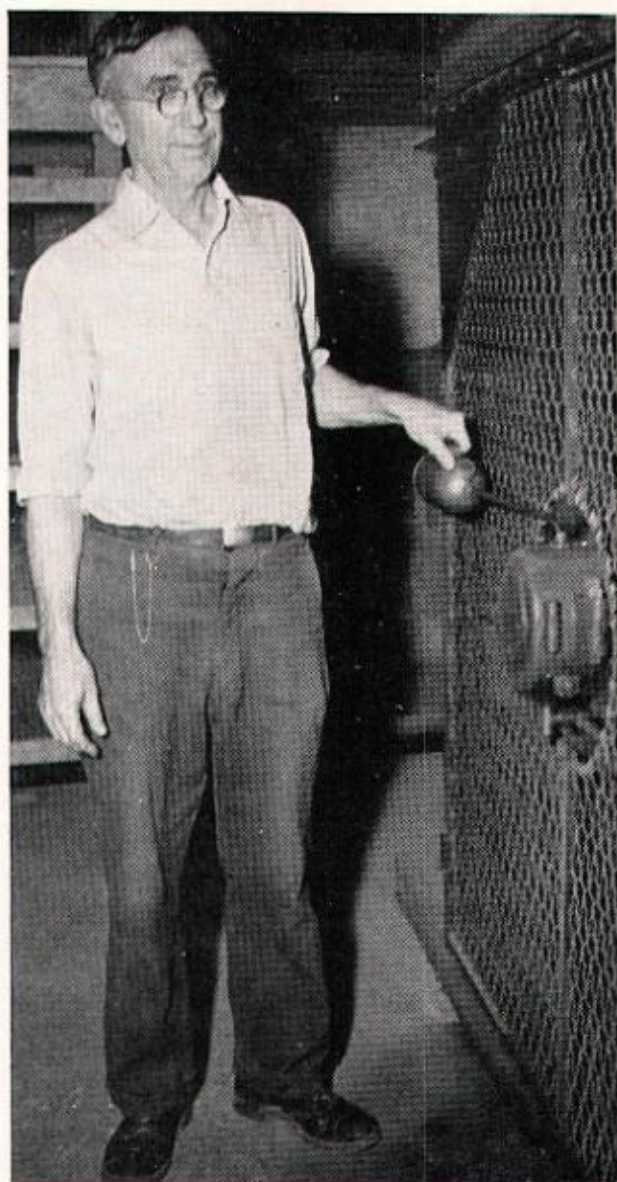

Marilyn Elkins, Patricia Young. Marilyn and Patricia model their tailored gabardine dresses.

OUR GROUND ENGINEERS

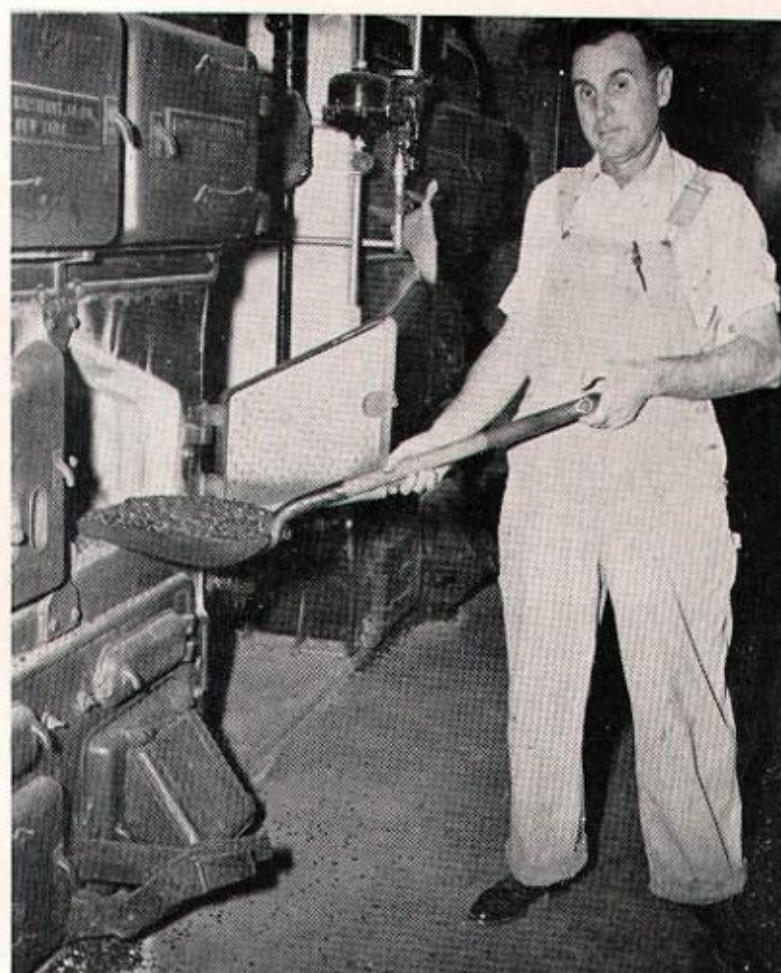

Mr. Smith oils the fan.

Each of our ground engineers does his special work for the Big Tent. Mr. Rice, our fireman and indispensable repairman, keeps us comfortable during the wintry blasts and keeps all our tents, cages, and dressing rooms in good repair.

Mr. Smith, besides keeping the first floor clean during circus season, mows the grass for the entire grounds in summer and clears the sidewalks in winter.

Mr. Eckert, in order to keep our cages attractive, cleans the second floor after the last show is over for the day.

While the circus is out for the summer, all three engineers prepare for the next season.

Mr. Eckert feeds the furnace.

DISTRICT CHORUS MEMBERS

Standing — Marjorie Trach, Richard Young, Patricia Kern.
Sitting—Nancy Gower.

Serving as the musical attraction of our circus, the senior high glee club participated in several musical extravaganzas.

Each year the best singers attend the District chorus, held this year in Reading, Pennsylvania, from January 11 to 13. This year's concert was presented on Saturday, January 13, with Mrs. Elaine Brown of Temple University as guest conductor.

The four glee club members representing Nazareth High School were Marjorie Trach, first soprano; Nancy Gower, second soprano; Patricia Kern, first alto; and Richard Young, first bass.

Another event the glee club participated in was the annual Christmas Carol Service, presented in the high school auditorium on December 17 to a large and appreciative audience. This musical attraction was a joint program by the elementary grades and the senior high glee club in which the Christmas story was presented through music and scripture passages. The senior high choruses contributions were O Quit Your Pastures, The Praise Carol, Deck the Hall, and Gloria. Christmas trees, a stained glass window, and tableaus, all in white, provided an impressive background for the concert.

The Nazareth High Blue Eagle's first game against Lehigh proved to be the beginning link in a chain of successes, the outcome of which was an undefeated season. The final score of Nazareth 32, Lehigh 6, was a result of touchdowns made by Nolf, Dzurak, Rissmiller, and Marakovits supplemented by extra points kicked by Mengel.

Before an eager crowd of spectators the Blue Eagles played their first L N I A A game against Coplay. Marakovits opened the scoring by making a touchdown on a 17 yard run in the second period. As a result of a spectacular 17 yard pass by Nolf to Dzurak, another touchdown was achieved. In the third period Coplay scored again, tying the game 13 all. In the fourth period the game was put on ice by Marakovits who scored three more touchdowns. The final score was Nazareth 32, Coplay 13.

One of the toughest games for the Blue Eagles ended in a scoreless deadlock for both teams. Though the Pen Argyl men tried many times to break through our lines, Nagle's punting and Dzurak's tackling rescued us from the perils of defeat.

'Neath threatening skies the Eagles met a threatening team—Bangor's! The two undefeated teams clashed but, when the final whistle blew, Nazareth reigned victorious with a final score of 21 to 7.

The Nazareth High Blue Eagles buried the East Stroudsburg team by the top score of our entire undefeated season—47 to 0. Those making touchdowns were Polzer, Dzurak, Marakovits and Donello. Mengel kicked the five extra points.

Thanksgiving morning found enthusiastic football fans crowding into Cottingham Stadium for the annual Nazareth-Wilson game. Although the first half was disappointing to the Nazareth fans because of Wilson's touchdown, their faith in the Blue Eagles was restored when Marakovits successfully went through the lines for Nazareth's first touchdown, resulting in a tied score of 7-7. The second half, in comparison, was easy going for the Eagles. Dzurak and Donello made touchdowns which resulted in a final score of 20-7. LeRoy Nagle and John Polzer, co-captains of the game, displayed outstanding punting and tackling. The end of the game saw joyful Nazareth fans celebrating not only the victory over Wilson but also the fact that the team won the league championship.

Breaking away from a tackler.

The Eagles found the non-league games, with the exception of that with Nesquehoning, comparatively smooth sailing. In the Nazareth-Nesquehoning game the Blue Eagles received the opening kick off. On the first play from scrimmage speedy Marakovits carried the ball 71 yards for the only score of the game. Game statistics indicated that Nesquehoning held the advantage but the marvelous defensive play of the Blue Eagles, holding Nesquehoning four times within the ten yard lines, kept the strong Nesquehoning boys from scoring.

When the Eagles competed against Whitehall a pitchout from the quarter back with Dzurak scoring the touchdown resulted in a final score of 6 to 0.

Though the Blue Eagles's last non-league game, Emmaus, was on a damp, rainy fall day, their spirits weren't dampened as they claimed another victory. The final score was 13 to 0 over Emmaus.

Johnny Polzer was named honorary captain of the football season.

Students of Nazareth High will long remember with pride the triumphant season of 1950. In addition to winning the Lehigh-Northampton League Championship and being undefeated, the Blue Eagles also had the best defensive record in the valley for this past season. The last team to be undefeated for an entire season was that of 1935.

AND DRIBBLERS

Varsity Basketball Squad

Glenn Frace, Manager; Gerald Kienzle, Donald Roth, Andrew Donello, John Unangst, John Polzer, Roger Dusinski, Arthur Stannard, David Reimer, Harold Butz, Glenn Boerstler, Coach Leh.

The basketball season started off successfully when the Blue Eagles dribbled to a 37-28 victory over Emmaus on Nazareth's gym floor. Following this our boys lost several games but came back with sensational victories over Pen Argyl, Bangor, and Wilson in the first half of the season. During the second half, although suffering several defeats, they again nipped Pen Argyl and Bangor. The season came to a disappointing climax when Wilson beat us in our last game.

Considering the fact that only one letterman was available at the beginning of the season, the team made a remarkable showing against much more experienced teams.

Playing a total of 69 quarters, John Polzer was the season's highest scorer with a total of 232 points. In 67 quarters Captain David Reimer had only 47 fouls called against him.

Trying to prevent him from making a goal, a Trojan jumps to block a pass of a Blue Eagle player.

The Eagles, holders of the Lchigh-Northampton League championship in 1948 and 1949, opened the new baseball season quite successfully, winning the three independent games by a large margin. With this as a morale builder, Coach Leh's boys plunged into the League games, winning six and losing three. Two of these games—Parkland and Pen Argyl—were lost by only one run, putting Nazareth in third place as defending champions.

High batting average for the year was made by Gregory Yost with .351, followed closely by Douglas Seyfried with .348.

IS OVER

The return to the Big Top in the fall marks not only the return to classes and clubs, but also the renewal of sport activities. With the sound of the buzzer at 3:46 on Tuesdays and Thursdays, all sports-loving girls join enthusiastically in the excitement and fun of sports competition.

In the fall the hockey field is the scene of activity; during the winter months basketball and volleyball are in the limelight; in the spring baseball has the spotlight. These seasonal activities provide fun and frolic as well as develop skill and sportsmanship.

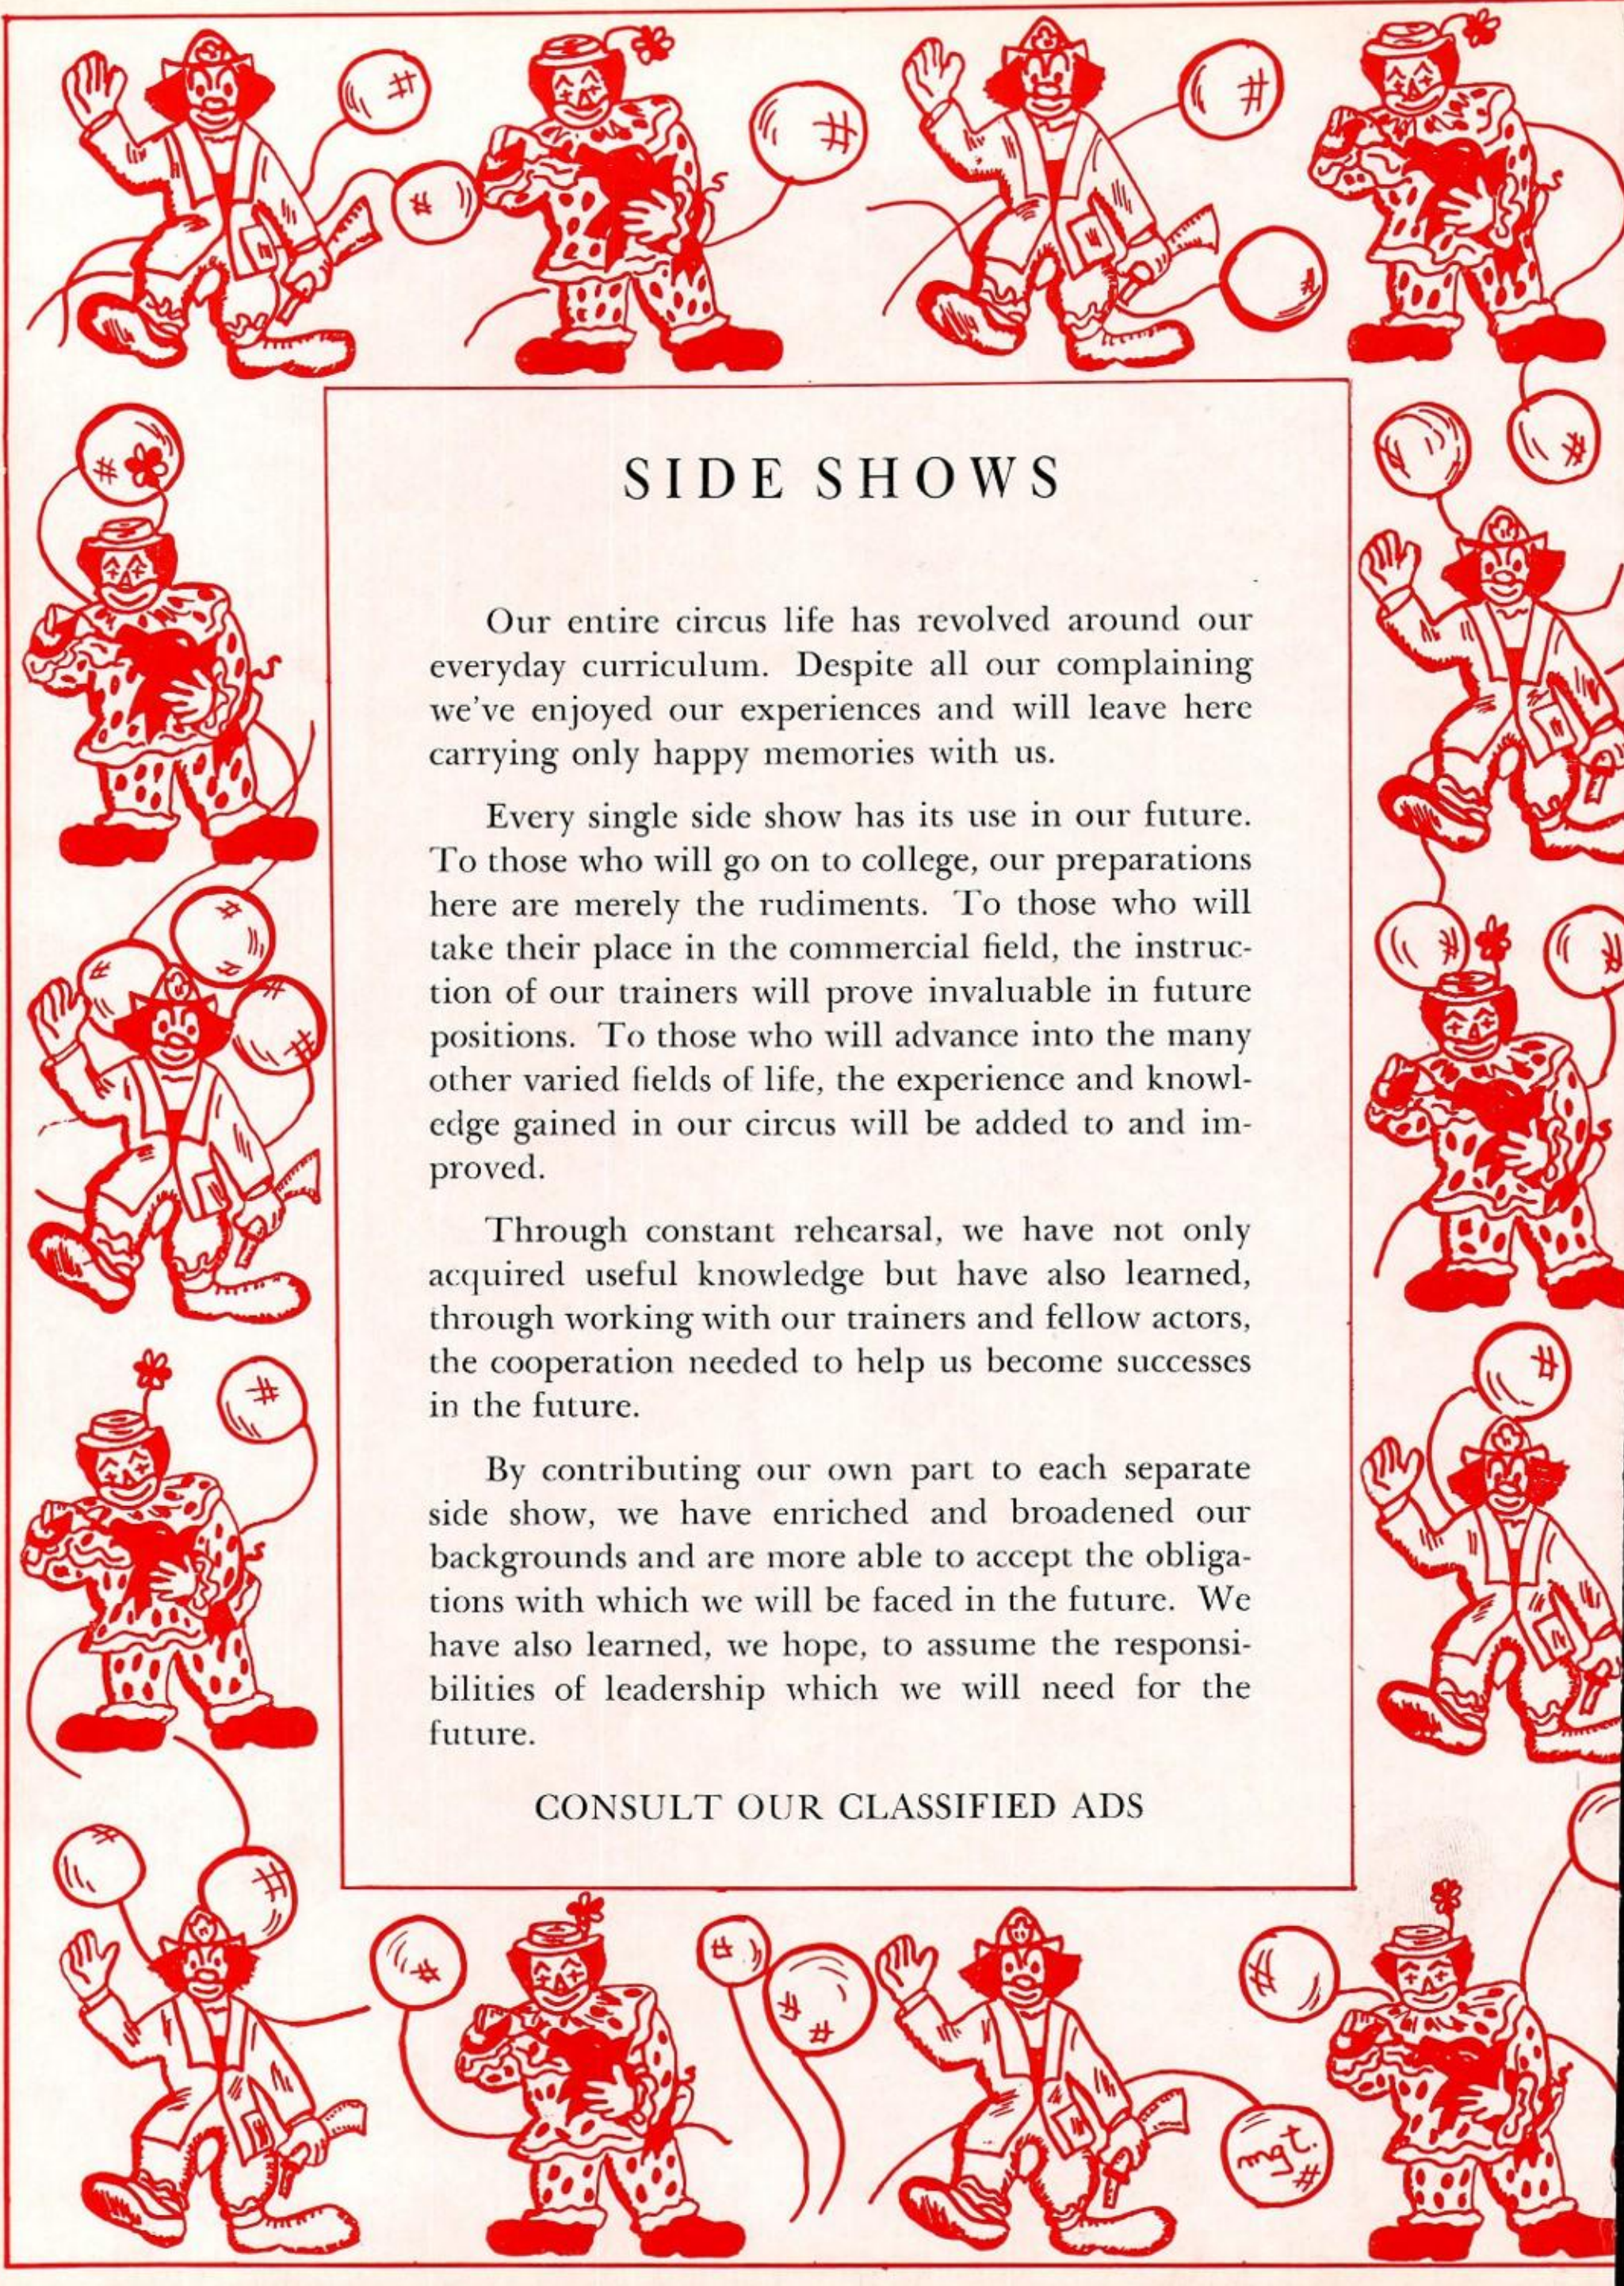

Fifield takes a foul shot.

Enthusiasm runs high during the basketball season, the favorite on the girls' sport calendar. The spirit was even greater this year, as the girls battled not only for the tournament crown but also for the opportunity to accept the challenge of Wilson's championship team. In the finals the Junior Spinning Tops nosed out the Senior Pookahs, 30-27, in a closely contested battle and then traveled to Wilson where they were defeated, 15-11.

With the first signs of spring the baseball diamond becomes alive as the tournament gets under way.

SIDE SHOWS

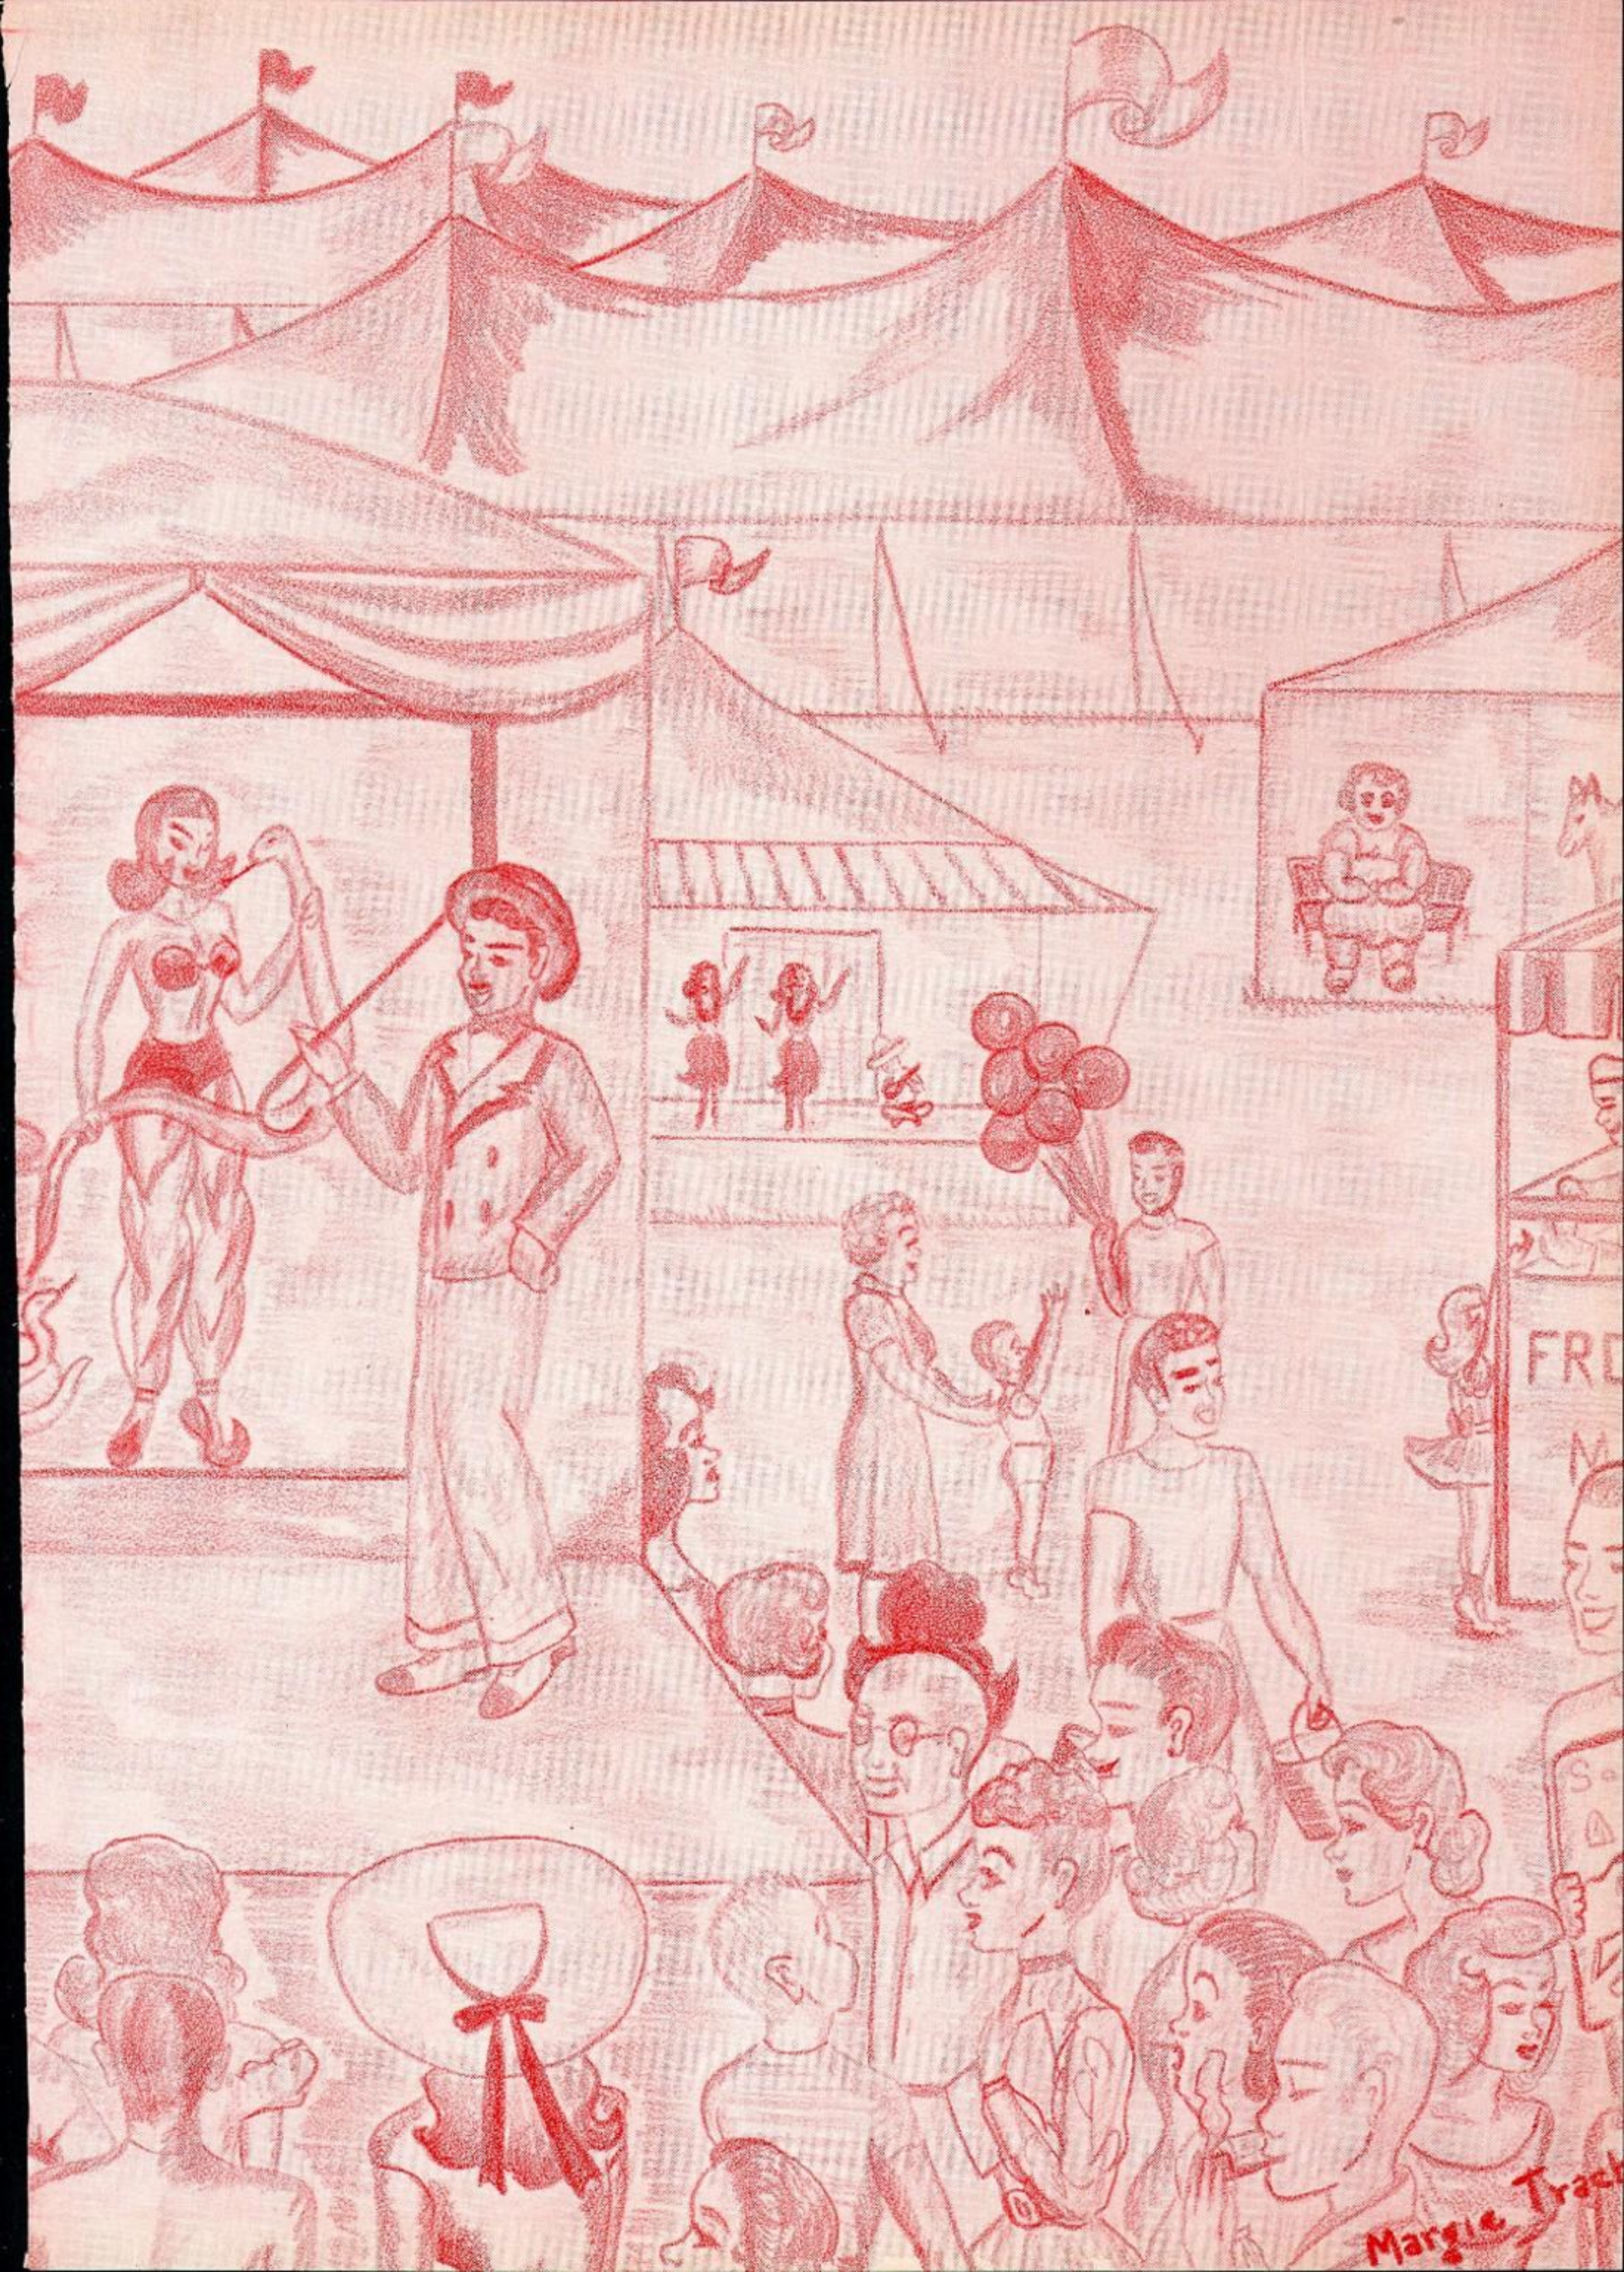

Our entire circus life has revolved around our everyday curriculum. Despite all our complaining we've enjoyed our experiences and will leave here carrying only happy memories with us.

Every single side show has its use in our future. To those who will go on to college, our preparations here are merely the rudiments. To those who will take their place in the commercial field, the instruction of our trainers will prove invaluable in future positions. To those who will advance into the many other varied fields of life, the experience and knowledge gained in our circus will be added to and improved.

Through constant rehearsal, we have not only acquired useful knowledge but have also learned, through working with our trainers and fellow actors, the cooperation needed to help us become successes in the future.

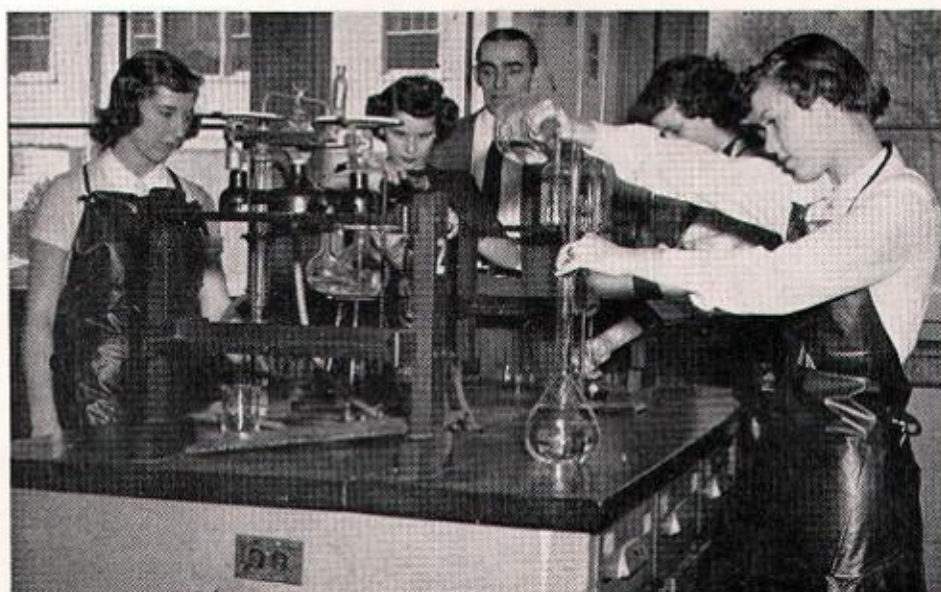

By contributing our own part to each separate side show, we have enriched and broadened our backgrounds and are more able to accept the obligations with which we will be faced in the future. We have also learned, we hope, to assume the responsibilities of leadership which we will need for the future.

PULLING UP THE STAKES

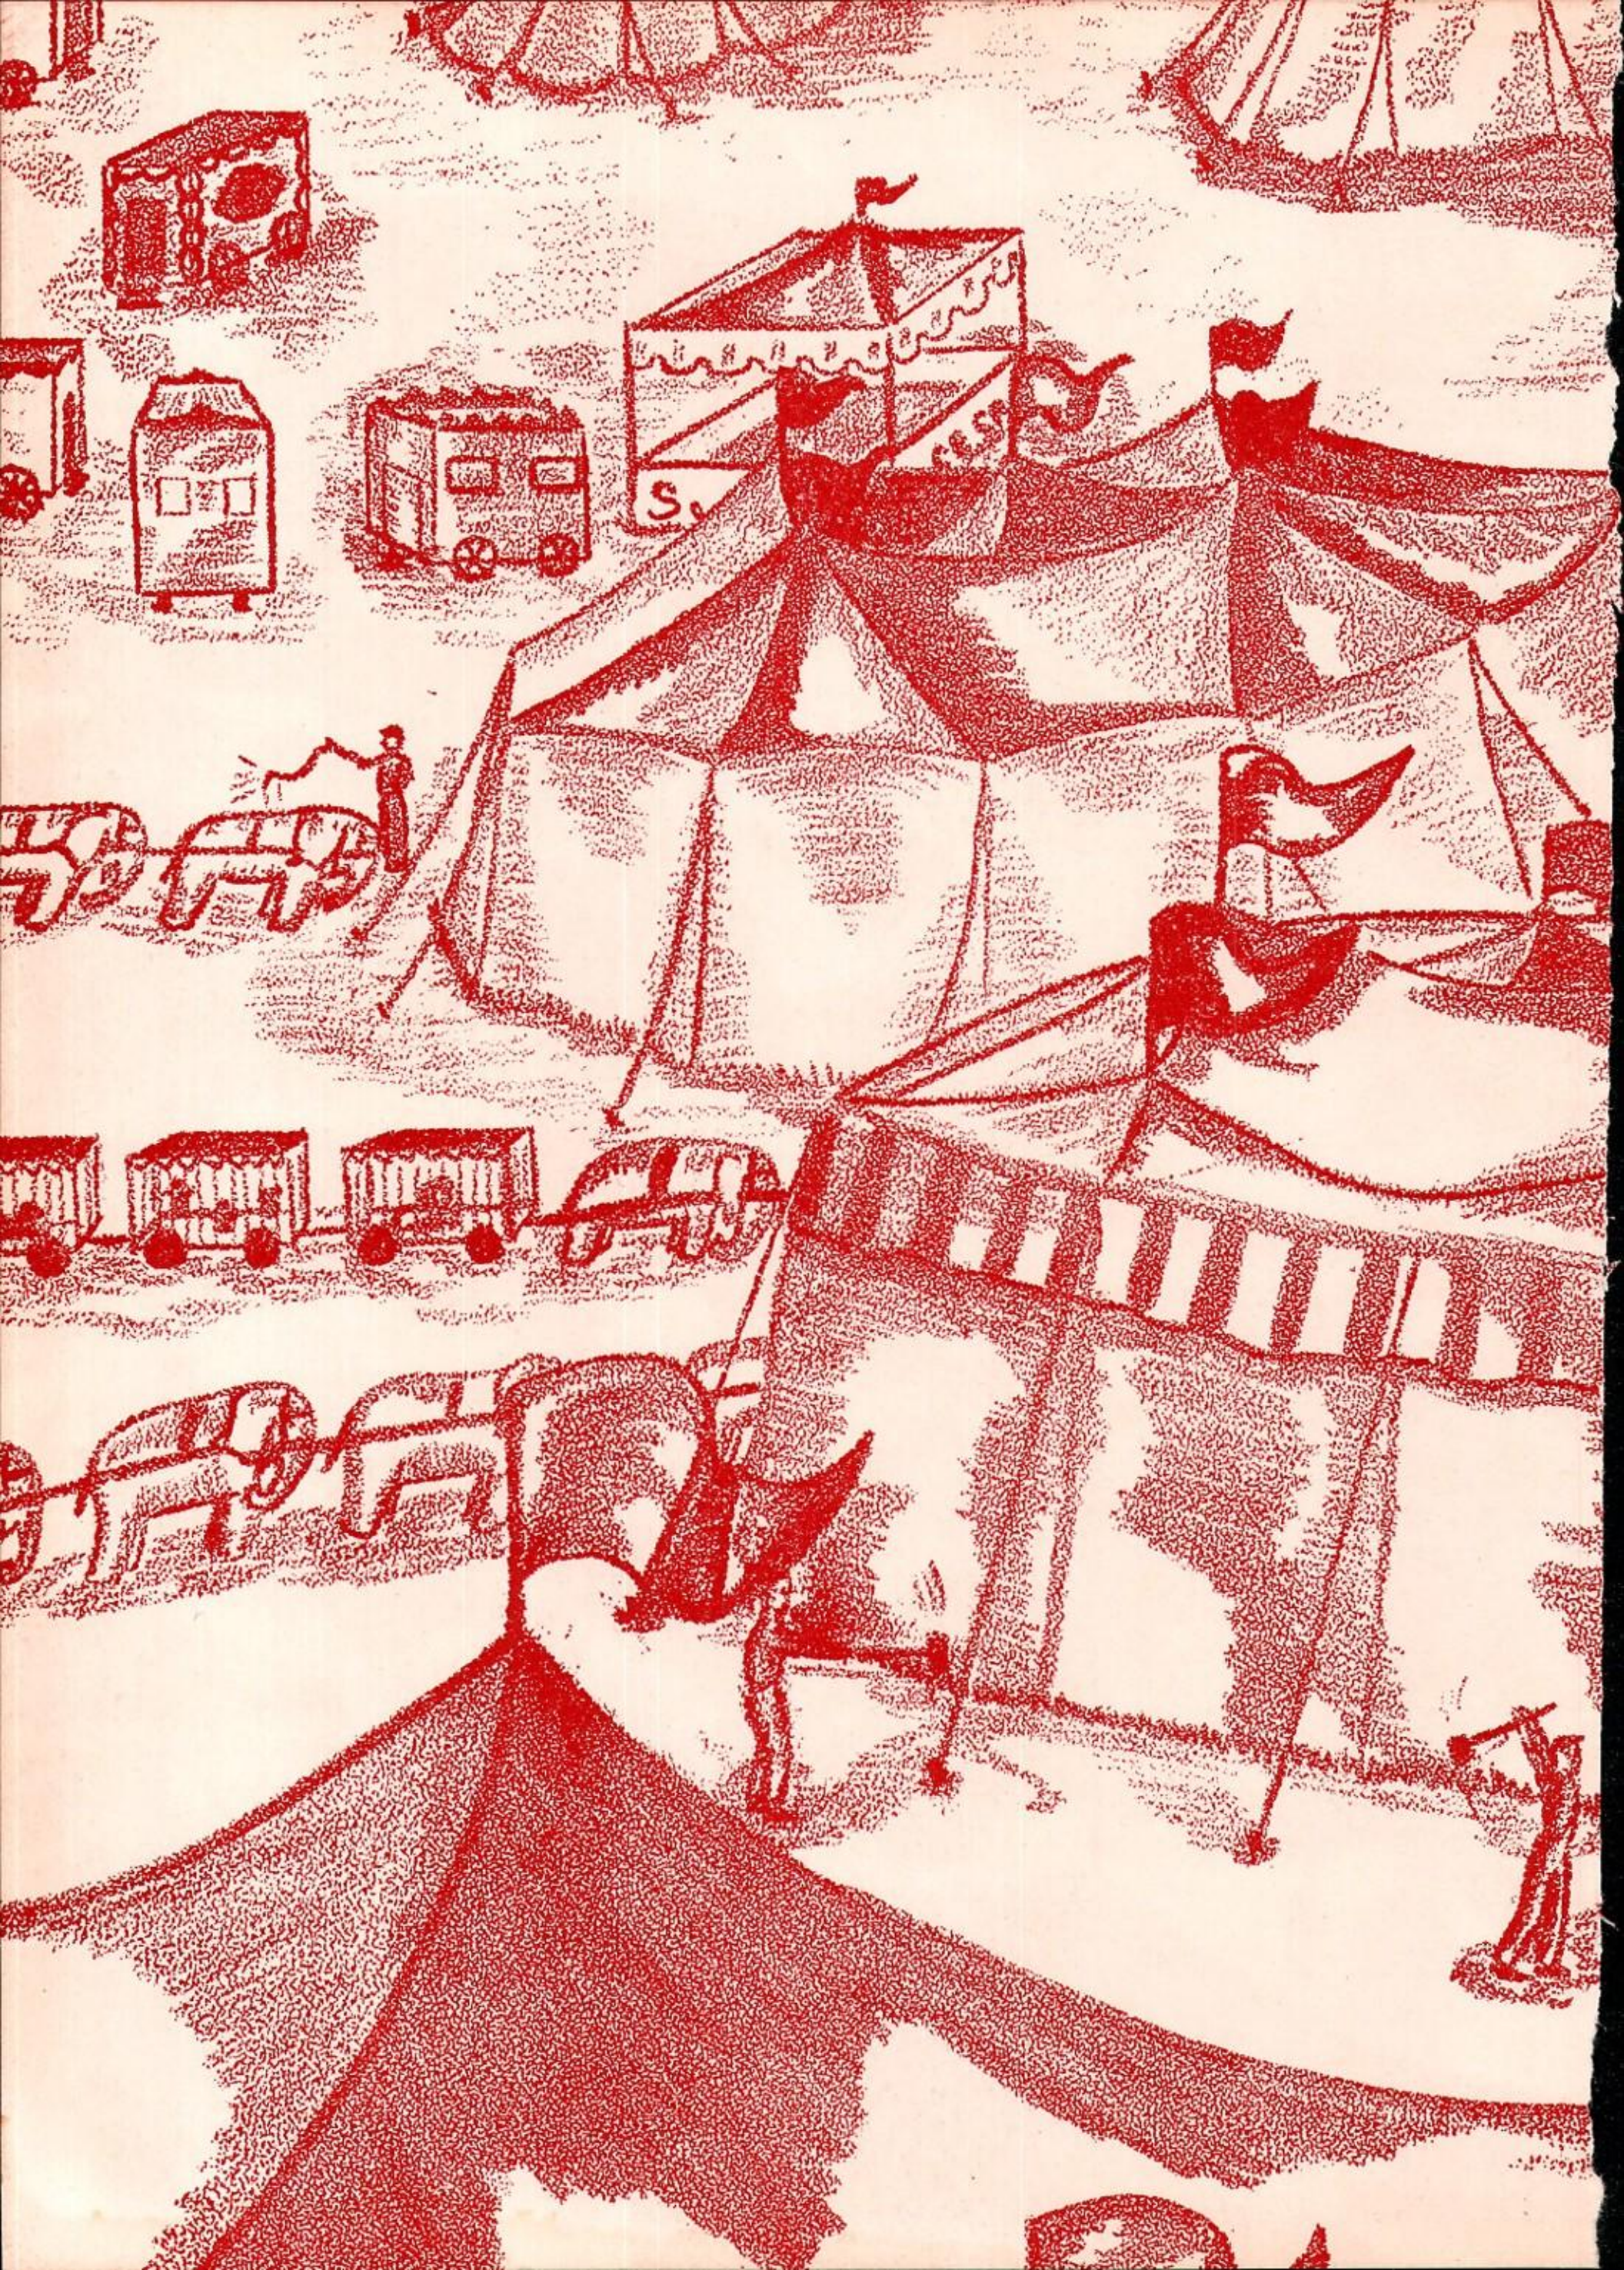

As the circus grounds become alive with a flurry of excitement and the brass band strikes up the graduation march, we, the class of 1951, begin to pull up the stakes of our tent and prepare for graduation, our last, most memorable performance "Under the Big Top."

But in the midst of all the excitement, we pause to look back over the entire production and realize that it has served as an amateur performance preparing us for the bigger shows of life that are ahead.

We realize that without the support of our stock holders—patrons and advertisers—we would not have been able to present so vivid a picture of our performance for our audience, and we are grateful for their support.

With the experience of this performance, we take a final bow and parade out of the tent and into the challenging world awaiting us.
